GREETINGS AND WELCOME TO ALL!

Dr. Edgar Lampkin
CABE CEO

July 1, 2024

Saludos y Bienvenidos! Greetings and Welcome!

On behalf of the CABE Board of Directors and our CABE Team, we welcome you to the beautiful Hilton San Diego Bayfront Hotel for three days of learning, connecting, and preparing for the delivery of Dual Language Programs that are Sx3 -- Strong, Successful, and Sustainable!

These three days will be packed with powerful learning and meaningful connections. We begin with a Day 1 Institute tailored to support your specific needs (administrative, pedagogical, literacy/biliteracy, best-practices etcetera). Days two and three will feature keynote speakers and self-selected 2-hour and 15-minute institutes on various DL topics, supporting and growing Dual Language Immersion Programs in Spanish from PreK through high school.

Your commitment and diligence to continue learning and growing professionally—even during summer vacation—inspires us! We hope you have brought a team from your District, School, or University! Be prepared to start supporting or working in a DL Program! Learn how to create effective literacy/biliteracy instruction in the DL classroom!

We are excited to introduce our renowned keynote speakers: Dr. Iliana Alanís, Professor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education at the University of Texas at San Antonio, will engage teachers in culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms, emphasizing young children's rights to develop their native language and cultural identity. Dr. Susana Ibarra-Johnson, Assistant Professor of Bilingual Education/TESOL at New Mexico State University, will focus on how translanguaging reshapes traditional conceptualizations of biliteracy with the implementation of translanguaging pedagogy in bilingual education and English language development contexts. This research holds the potential to significantly improve the education of emergent bilingual students. What an amazing time to come together to increase the impact and reach of our Dual Language Programs—particularly for our Multilingual/English Learner students.

Make sure to take time to network, learn, and grow in your conocimiento with your colegas during the next three-day sessions.

Many thanks to our CABE Team for their leadership in organizing the Dual Language Education Summer Institute. We also want to give special thanks to our Keynote Speakers and Institute Facilitators, our Exhibitors, and to YOU for being present, for contributing to, and participating in a powerful, engaging, and fun summer professional learning event!

Together, let's celebrate the JOY of speaking, learning, teaching, and leading by continuing to build our capacity to be S3 (Successful, Sustainable & Strong) in more than one language! After all, it is the "Superpower" we support and enrich our students and families with!

Warm regards,

Dr. Raúl Maldonado
CABE Board President

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Dr. Iliana Alanís

Tuesday, July 2, 2024
8:30 am – 9:30 am

Dr. Iliana Alanís, a native of South Texas, holds the position of Professor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education in the Department of Interdisciplinary Learning and Teaching at the University of Texas at San Antonio. She earned her Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Texas, Austin, specializing in Multilingual Studies and Educational Psychology. As a university faculty member, her primary focus is on engaging teacher candidates and practicing teachers in culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms, emphasizing the rights of young children to develop their native language and cultural identity.

Dr. Alanís adopts a sociocultural lens in her research, examining effective pedagogical practices in early childhood within dual language contexts. Her extensive body of work includes over 50 refereed publications, such as “Translingual Partners in Early Childhood Elementary Education: Pedagogies on Linguistic and Cognitive Engagement” published by Peter Lang Publishers, New York, NY, and “Supporting Dual Language Learners in Diverse Environments in Preschool & Kindergarten” published by NAEYC in Washington, DC.

Before entering academia, Dr. Alanís was a bilingual teacher for second-grade students in the Texas Rio Grande Valley. For more than two decades, she has facilitated professional development for early childhood educators in dual language settings as a Dual Language Training Institute member and a founding member of the Vales Por Dos Consulting Group. Furthermore, she has held leadership positions, including the Texas Association for Bilingual Education (TABE) presidency and National Latino Children’s Institute board member. Recently, she concluded her five-year elected service as a Governing Board Member for the National Association for Early Childhood Education (NAEYC).

Outside of her professional endeavors, Dr. Alanís is married to Bradley York, and together, they reside in San Antonio, Texas, with their son, Diego, and their three dogs: Roxy, Lucy, and Lali.

Dr. Susana Ibarra-Johnson

Wednesday, July 3, 2024
8:30 am – 9:30 am

Dr. Susana Ibarra Johnson, is an assistant professor of Bilingual Education/TESOL at New Mexico State University. Her commitment to improving the education of bilingual students is evident in her diverse and extensive experience. She has served in various roles, including as a professional development specialist, associate researcher for WIDA, director of bilingual multicultural education programs at Bernalillo Public Schools, district biliteracy specialist for Albuquerque Public Schools, and a bilingual education teacher in California, Texas, and New Mexico public schools. However, it is her research that truly stands out. Her work focuses on how translanguaging reshapes traditional conceptualizations of biliteracy with the implementation of translanguaging pedagogy in bilingual education and English language development contexts. This research is not just academic; it has the potential to significantly improve the education of emergent bilingual students.

NGSS Stories: A second grade classroom explores the flooding of the town of Moncton

This workshop will allow participants to explore a case study of a dual language classroom engaged in a second-grade earth science unit about a small town that became flooded and eventually abandoned. Participants will engage in hands-on activities, science and engineering practices, and sense-making discussions. This unit is featured in the most recent National Academies publication "Rise and Thrive with Science: Teaching PK-5 Science and Engineering". Explore the value of science education in dual classrooms. No science background is required—only curiosity and wonder!

Leveraging Students' Multicultural and Multilingual Capital-Building Multilingual Ecologies

Based on the principles of the EL Roadmap policy, schools must aim to create inclusive and inviting learning environments that reflect the diversity of the school community. The learning environment must reflect the languages and cultures of the community in order for students to develop a sense of belonging. Participants will explore strategies that can be implemented by multilingual and monolingual staff to create multilingual ecologies that foster and promote the use of home languages and contribute to students' own sociocultural competence.

La salud mental en la familia

Las experiencias adversas de la infancia y el trauma pueden afectar el desarrollo sano y saludable del cerebro, lo que proporciona las bases para el desarrollo del comportamiento, el aprendizaje y la salud mental. Las relaciones saludables y las experiencias sanas en la familia fomentan un crecimiento sano. La familia contribuye a un entorno social y emocional enriquecedor y propicia el desarrollo vital de la salud mental en los niños.

Designated ELD in Dual Language Classrooms

This session makes connections to research and state guidelines for English Language Development (ELD) instruction in Dual Language (DL) settings. It embeds sociocultural competence development in ELD instruction and builds on student’s linguistic assets in the DL program. It includes effective components of Integrated ELD instruction in DL and differentiated scaffolds for a variety of language proficiencies. Participants will understand and apply the ELD and Common Core Standards in DL by focusing on strategic planning across languages. A lesson cycle is modeled to include all the effective components of designated ELD in DL.

How K-2 Children "Come to Know" Bilingual Literacy in DLI in L1 and L2 Using Interactive Dialogue Journals

The power of using Interactive Dialogue Journals in Dual Immersion K-2 classrooms is unparalleled given that this tool mediates the development of the alphabetic principle in Spanish and English.

This workshop will share: 1) how to organize, deliberately mediate, and facilitate sociocultural teaching/learning, and assess children's developmental progress on a monthly basis; 2) how children "come to know" the alphabetic systems from their own conceptual interpretations; and 3) how to name, children's conceptual interpretations using Ferreiro & Teberosky's Piagetian theoretical and research knowledge of psychogenesis.

The teaching/learning of literacy and bilingual in Dual Language Education/Immersion is a very complex process. This vintage pedagogical knowledge comes from sociocultural, sociopsychogenesis, sociopsycholinguistic, and second language theories that are embedded in this effective instructional practice.

Leveraging Students' Multicultural and Multilingual Capital-Building Multilingual Ecologies

Based on the principles of the EL Roadmap policy, schools must aim to create inclusive and inviting learning environments that reflect the diversity of the school community. The learning environment must reflect the languages and cultures of the community in order for students to develop a sense of belonging. Participants will explore strategies that can be implemented by multilingual and monolingual staff to create multilingual ecologies that foster and promote the use of home languages and contribute to students' own sociocultural competence.

The State Seal of Biliteracy and Pathway Recognitions: Cultivating Multilingualism from PK-University

In the context of California's renewed focus and investment in multilingual education, we have access to more and more resources to understand, cultivate, recognize, and advocate for biliteracy! See concrete examples of resources available to your districts, including the State Seal of Biliteracy and newer Biliteracy Pathway Recognitions from PK to University. In this training, we will share experiences gained and resources created through the Multilingual California Alliance Project (MCAP), a 3-year grant funded by the CA EWIG EL Roadmap Implementation Grant.

Growing Together: Reclaiming or Retaining Bilingualism at Home

This workshop is for anyone across a wide span of language levels and experiences who wants to strengthen bilingualism as a core family value. The presenters will guide participants through taking stock of their linguistic pasts, considering several research-based models for bilingualism in the home, and setting short- and long-term linguistic goals as a family. We will role-play sharing these goals with educational partners. It is never too little and it is never too late to grow your bilingual superpowers as a family!

La salud mental en la familia

Las experiencias adversas de la infancia y el trauma pueden afectar el desarrollo sano y saludable del cerebro, lo que proporciona las bases para el desarrollo del comportamiento, el aprendizaje y la salud mental. Las relaciones saludables y las experiencias sanas en la familia fomentan un crecimiento sano. La familia contribuye a un entorno social y emocional enriquecedor y propicia el desarrollo vital de la salud mental en los niños.

Critical Literacy/Biliteracy Instruction in Practice

Literacy development is a complex process, and current conversations and research summaries aren't always inclusive or representative of the unique needs of our multilingual learners and programs. CABE's comprehensive model of Critical Literacy/Biliteracy for Multilingual Learners is based on specific biliteracy research, and this session will highlight skills, components, and instructional practices that ensure achievement for multilingual learners. Come explore this dynamic, teacher-driven model!

Designated ELD in Dual Language Classrooms

This session makes connections to research and state guidelines for English Language Development (ELD) instruction in Dual Language (DL) settings. It embeds sociocultural competence development in ELD instruction and builds on student’s linguistic assets in the DL program. It includes effective components of Integrated ELD instruction in DL and differentiated scaffolds for a variety of language proficiencies. Participants will understand and apply the ELD and Common Core Standards in DL by focusing on strategic planning across languages. A lesson cycle is modeled to include all the effective components of designated ELD in DL.
